The Hanns Seidel Foundation, founded in 1967, is a German political foundation, close to the Christian Social Union (CSU), providing political education “in the Service of Democracy, Peace and Development” in Germany and abroad. It has been named after the former Minister President of Bavaria and Party Chairman of the CSU, Hanns Seidel. Its specialist departments operate in the fields of political consulting and education, scholarship programmes, international cooperation with a special focus on development cooperation, as well as European and transatlantic dialogue. Please find more information about our work on our website: www.hss.de/en/

INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

Hanns Seidel Foundation worldwide

THE INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION PRESENTS ITSELF

MANDATE

For 40 years, the Hanns Seidel Foundation has been committed to international cooperation, with a special focus on development cooperation in currently 80 projects in 55 countries worldwide. Our international activities are based on Christian-social ideals and seek to promote humane living conditions and to contribute to sustainable development by strengthening peace, democracy, rule of law and social market economy. In cooperation with our local partners we realise projects in the fields of policy consultancy and political education. Our partners' independency and ownership are of particular importance to us.

DIALOGUE ON DEVELOPMENT POLICY

Since 2003 the Brussels office of the Hanns Seidel Foundation has promoted a dialogue on development policy with the decision makers of the European Union. European development policy is discussed in dialogue forums and conferences. The project seeks to create a platform in order to identify possible fields of cooperation and to shape European development cooperation. A key factor here is the sustainable networking between our project partners and experts from the EU. We continue the development policy dialogue with the public, politicians and the scientific community in Munich by publishing the series "Arguments and Materials of Development Cooperation" and carrying out the "Forum of Development Policy".

IMPACT ASSESSMENT

Do we pursue the right aims? Do we pursue them in the right way?

These central questions regarding relevance and efficiency ensure the quality of our project work. They analyse the connection between our project activities in the field and long-term goals.

Therefore, our projects are supported by a continuous internal monitoring as well as regular independent external evaluations. We seek to measure the state of achievement of our objectives and validate the results' sustainability. The Evaluation division is responsible for coordinating the monitoring and evaluation measures.
